Vail Daily

BRINGING COMMUNITIES TOGETHER

FRIDAY, 6 • 15 • 18 | VAILDAILY.COM | FREE

We're all in this together

Firefighters have one another's backs, and ours, in battling wildfires around the region and keeping communities covered. A3

CHRIS DILLMANN | CDILLMANN@VAILDAILY.COM

Kids play in one of seven of the Vail Board of Realtors presents the town of Avon's Playhouse Project playhouses during the ribbon cutting and dedication on Thursday, June 14, at Nottingham Park in Avon. The playhouses were built by local builders and sponsored by local businesses. They will be auctioned off in July to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the Vail Board of Realtors Foundation and Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley.

Let playtime begin

Town of Avon unveils seven playhouses in Nottingham Park, which will be open for kids to play in until July 21. A2

HighLife

A longtime local gives you her picks of what activities to partake in to celebrate Father's Day. FOR THE FULL STORY, SEE PAGE B1.

WEATHER
VANDIT BYSTROM
Stone Creek Charter School
Mostly cloudy
High 74; low 47 — Weather, B8

TOWN TALK
CELEBRATE STEVE'S LIFE
A19

YOUR NEWS
SPRING SHOTS
Use #VailLive to see your photos on Page A10 of the Vail Daily.

CORRECTION
A story on Page A3 of the Thursday, June 14, Vail Daily, "Playhouses require many helping hands," used the original name of the local Habitat for Humanity chapter. The correct name is Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley. This story has been corrected online.

SPORTS
Local teacher and soccer coach David Cope gives us his reasons to love World Cup soccer. FOR THE FULL STORY, SEE PAGE A26.

OUR WORLD
New York's attorney general sued President Donald Trump and his foundation Thursday, June 14, accusing him of illegally using the charity's money to settle disputes involving his business empire and to boost his political fortunes during his run for the White House. FOR THE FULL STORY, SEE PAGE A22.

DAILY DOG
C32

LITTLE HOUSES, BIG IMPACT

(LOCAL BUILDERS UNVEIL THEIR PLAYHOUSE PROJECT MASTERPIECES AT NOTTINGHAM PARK)

Photos by Chris Dillmann
cdillmann@vaildaily.com

IF YOU GO …

What: Vail Board of Realtors presents the town of Avon's Playhouse Project.
When: Playhouses were unveiled Thursday, June 14, and will remain in place until Saturday, July 21, when they will be auctioned off to raise money for St. Jude's Research Hospital, Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley and the Vail Board of Realtors Foundation.
Where: Harry A. Nottingham Park, Avon.
More information: Visit www.playhouseprojects.org.

A welcome sign in one of the seven The Vail Board of Realtors presents the town of Avon's Playhouse Project playhouses during the ribbon cutting and dedication on Thursday, June 14, at Nottingham Park. The playhouses were built by local builders and sponsored by local businesses. They are being auctioned off to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the Vail Board of Realtors Foundation and Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley.

Children are encouraged to play in the playhouses in Avon. The seven professionally designed playhouses will be on display at Nottingham Park until July 21 before being auctioned off for charity.

Seven playhouses for the Playhouse Project will be auctioned off to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the Vail Board of Realtors Foundation and Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley. The seven playhouses of the Playhouse Project in Avon will hopefully raise more than $50,000 for charity.

Each playhouse is embedded with a commemorative coin from St. Jude Children's Hospital. Have fun seeing if you can find all seven

Some playhouses had multiple levels, and all differed in design and imagination. The playhouses will be on display at Nottingham Park in Avon until July 21.

Some of the interiors of the playhouses are as intricately designed as their exteriors. The builders were each given $1,000 for their project, but many businesses spent more than that creating the structures.